

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

On page 3, lines 16-19, please replace the original paragraph with the following amended paragraph:

The mobile switching center is typically coupled to the Public Switched Telephone Network (PSTN), which is often referred to as a land-line telephone network. A typical cellular network includes a connection to the PSTN because a majority of all cellular telephone calls are initiated from mobile/portable cellular telephones.